Wrinkles Around the Eyes

Are usually caused by defective sight. Many women, and likewise men, look prematurely old from these wrinkles. The wrinkles in many cases can be removed by wearing correctly fitted glasses. To fit glasses correctly demands a thorough knowledge of refraction and the necessary instruments. We have both; hundreds of satisfied customers will say so.

BEAUTIFUL JIM KEY.

First Performance of this Wonderful Horse Last Night.

When the curtain rose at the Academy of Music last night, the auditorium was about full, with several in the gallery. Beautiful Jim Key was the attraction, and on the invitation of the management quite a number of our preachers and school teachers were present to witness his great exhibition of "horse sense." Under direction of his master, Dr. Key, an old colored man who has spent about 8 years in teaching him, Jim did almost anything in spelling, reading and figures that can be done by a child 8 or 9 years old. Cards about 5 inches long with the alphabet on them were arranged in a rack on the stage, and when a person in the audience would call for any word to be spelled, the horse would pick out the letters one at a time and bring them to the front of the stage, where they were placed in another rack. The first word spelled was "Blackburn," and Jim picked out the nine letters as correctly as any person could have done. He told the number of days in a common year and leap year, did addition, subtraction, multiplication or division in numbers up to thirty, used a cash register, ringing up any amount called for and getting the right change from the drawer, and did many other things it would seem impossible to teach a horse, the most remarkable of which was taking a silver dollar from a bucket filled with water, without drinking a drop. This he did twice.

The performance closed with a tableau scene, showing Jim and his master asleep together just as they sleep every night. The whole show is an example of what patience and kindness will do, if rightly used, and is a strong argument for the formation here of a society for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Testimonial.

We, the undersigned residents of Greensboro, having witnessed the wonderful performance of "Beautiful Jim Key," the educated horse, in his marvelous exhibition of intelligence in his two-act play called "The Scholar; or, The Model Office Boy," at the Academy of Music, take pleasure in advising every one to be sure and see this wonderful horse, as it is an entertainment that ladies, children and men cannot help but be delighted with, as well as astonished, for this beautiful horse does even more than is claimed for him, and the exhibition teaches a grand object lesson of what patience and kindness will accomplish with an animal. It is without question the most wonderful performance ever witnessed, and those who do not see it will miss the best attraction ever brought to Greensboro. Signed by

There will be two matinees tomorrow at 2 and 4 p. m., and the regular evening performance at 8 p. m.

Our Next Solicitor

The Telegram promised those who heard A. L. Brooks last, that they would hear one of the best speeches. We do not have to retract. Mr. Brooks, though tired from incessant travel and speaking for six weeks, was caught up on the wave of enthusiasm which greeted him as he entered, and when he began speaking was further inspired by the hearty applause, forgot his tired frame, and for over an hour poured forth an appeal, the like of which has not been excelled in this campaign. If Brooks is not elected today, it will be a burning shame, and will be a foul blot on the name of the Fifth judicial district.

Mrs. Alderman took with her her little lame daughter, Bessie, who will be treated by a Louisville specialist.

THE TABLES TURNED.

Judge W. P. Bynum Takes His Ticket From a Negro.

The time has been when the white men in the republican party handled the tickets, waited around the polls and kept a sharp lookout for the negroes and furnished them with tickets. Such a thing as a negro having charge of the tickets and furnishing them to white men was unheard of, and had a negro attempted such a thing he would have received a cursing at the hands of his white allies.

But now it is different. Fusion has elevated the negro to some extent, and he is now the equal of his white allies. We said "elevated" the negro; but perhaps it would be more correct to say "politically lowered" the white men. Anyway, the white men of the fusion party and the negroes are nearer on a level than they have ever been.

This morning bystanders at precinct No. 4, Gilmer township, were surprised to see Judge W. P. Bynum, appointee of Governor Russell, walk up to a negro ward heeler, take tickets from him and vote them.

Politically speaking and otherwise, that may have suited the new judge; but it is not in keeping with the true Anglo-Saxon idea of things. Tastes differ very much, you know, and it is a question as to whether a fusionist has any taste—or smell.

TO-DAY'S SITTING

Will in no Way Modify the Spanish-American Situation.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Nov. 8.—Gaulois says the setting of the peace commissions today will in no way modify the Spanish-American situation, as Americans have orders to await further instructions from Washington. That papers says these instructions depend upon the result of the election which it thinks will be favorable to the republicans, and that Americans will eventually recognize the pecuniary expense due to Spain for the evacuation of the Philippines. Negotiations will continue and be brought to a satisfactory conclusion.

Joint Session Not Held.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Nov. 8.—The Spanish-American peace conference has notified the French foreign affairs office that the joint session which was to have occurred today will not be held, and that they will notify the minister when they have determined upon the date for another meeting.

Later a semi-official note was issued announcing that the peace commission had informed the French minister of foreign affairs of their conference having suspended.

We asked one of our customers the other day if he didn't want to buy something in the way of woollen underwear. He replied, "You know those suits I bought of you." We said "Yes, but that was two years ago," to which he replied, "Yes, but they are all right yet, and I'm going to wear them again this winter." We are still selling this same line of underwear, positively the best winter underwear ever sold in this city at the remarkably low price of two dollars a suit, or one dollar each for shirt and drawers. ALL GONE HOME TO VOTE.

The Government Clerks at Washington.

THE NORTH CAROLINA SITUATION

Watched With Considerable Anxiety. Republicans No Longer Claim All the Congressmen.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Very few government clerks and officials are in Washington. The larger part of the administration have followed the example of the President, and left the city for the purpose of voting in the elections of their various States. Most of the cabinet officials left the city last week, and others followed during the day yesterday. Neither Secretary Hay, Alger, nor Long will go home to vote, and the number of clerks from these three great departments of the government who left the city is very small. President McKinley left for Canton last night. He will cast his ballot early and will return at once to Washington, reaching here early Wednesday morning.

In the Executive departments but little business is being transacted, most of the clerks having left the city. It is said that the number of clerks going home this year has been larger than in generally the case for an off year. Both of the congressional headquarters kept open during the day yesterday, and devoted their time to closing up the affairs of the campaign, and to furnishing voters' tickets to applicants. At the Democratic headquarters it was stated that the number of voters sent into North Carolina and Virginia has been quite large. The Republicans have sent large numbers of voters to Maryland, West Virginia and New York.

Both of the committees will close their headquarters tonight. All the clerks, who have voted in the different States have gone home, and only enough are on duty to conduct the business which might require attention.

Chairman Kerr, who votes in Pennsylvania, left the city yesterday for his home. Before leaving Washington he expressed confidence that the next House will be democratic. He says that Pennsylvania will give a good account of herself this year, and he looks for the election of an anti-Quay legislature.

The North Carolina situation which has attracted such attention is watched by the leaders here with considerable anxiety. Most North Carolina people coming to Washington do not believe that there will be any trouble at the polls, excepting perhaps at one or two places on the South Carolina border. The election of five democratic congressmen is hoped for by the national congressional committee. At republican headquarters yesterday it was said that advisers indicated the election of six or seven anti-democratic candidates. Heretofore the congressional committee has claimed the election of a solid anti-democratic delegation, which shows that the managers have lost much of their confidence, or else it was only put on for campaign purposes.

Charles Cathoun Walters, who represents a big drug and chemical firm in New York city, has returned to Washington from an extended trip through North Carolina, Mississippi, and Florida. Mr. Walters says that business throughout the southern section of the country is very good, much better than it was a year ago.

While in the south Mr. Walters has studied the sentiment of the people somewhat, and he declares that though they are strongly democratic, that as a rule they approve the war policy of the administration. In speaking of the New York outcome, he said that Roosevelt would be elected and that his vote in the country districts of New York will be very large. All through the state he says the country people are solid for the Rough Rider, and will cast a big vote for him. If he is defeated, Mr. Walters thinks it will be due to the Germans who were opposed to the strict enforcement of the Raines law, which occurred under the Roosevelt regime in New York city.

Mrs. General W. H. F. Lee, of Virginia, widow of the former Congressman, and Confederate Officer, was at the Ebbitt House Monday afternoon. She will be in the city for only a very few days. Invitations have been received in Washington for the wedding of Miss Minna Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Atkinson, of Selma, N. C., to Mr. Luther S. Cannon, of this city. The wedding will take place on the 15th, at the home of bride, at Selma.

Senator James K. Jones, of Arkansas, and son arrived in the city yesterday morning, having been called back from Arkansas by the death of the latter's little daughter. Last night the father of the child took her remains to his home.

Among North Carolina people in the city, are G. N. Harrison, of Salisbury; James D. Glenn, of Greensboro; Roscoe Mitchell, and T. C. Harris, of Tar River.

Abram T. Banner has been commissioned Postmaster at Sugar Grove N. C.

Post Office at Vollers, Robeson County, N. C., has been discontinued.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.

HIGH POINT, N. C. Nov. 8

Major Stedman said last night after the speaking that in all of his campaigning, that while he was feeling very bad physically, that his visit here was one of the most delightful visits he had ever made in his life, and he was never more impressed with a crowd than he was with the crowd assembled in the warehouse last night. He said that so large a crowd and so many beautiful young ladies would inspire any man. We appreciate the above from a man of Maj. Stedman's calibre.

Mr. Slaughter has decided not to give his supper in his new dining room tonight. It will be given next Friday night instead. He will serve oysters to right between 9 and 12.

Instead of chrysanthemums on the lapel of coats today, it is democratic badges.

Everything is quiet when we send in our items.

The conversation in the waiting room here night before last wherein Ed. Ragan denied that there was a negro on the republican ticket in Morehead township, has been the cause of Ed. and his set losing several votes here today. So much for that.

Col. Jas. E. Boyd, assistant attorney general, spoke to a good sized crowd in the opera house last night, the majority of which were colored people. In his discourse he said that there was not a negro or a republican in this state was in favor of negro rule. What was the Colonel thinking about when he made this utterance.

The white man's torch light procession last night was a perfect success. There were torch-light transparencies and mottoes of almost every imaginable description. There were over 1,000 white men in line. Along the line, the sidewalks and windows were filled with ladies and visitors. Many did we hear say that they had no idea that there was as many people in the township as were present last night. In the warehouse where the procession went and where Major Stedman and Mr. Watson spoke were assembled the largest crowd of good people that was ever assembled on any occasion except upon yearly meetings or circus days. As to the speeches by Messrs. Stedman and Watson it is useless for us to undertake to say anything now. The Young Ladies Democratic Club were present last night in a body and presented the speakers with two exceedingly large and beautiful bouquets.

The Davidson county news, the "Pop Rag," of Thomasville, which lied so about the barbecue and the Democratic Club of this place that attended the barbecue is now beginning to crawl.

Don't fail to attend the Moody Bros. concert to-morrow night at the M. E. Church. Every body is cordially invited.

British Protectorate.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Nov. 8.—It is rumored that England will soon declare a protectorate over Egypt. This rumor is notably persistent here and on the continent. An influential part of the cabinet favors the declaration and British newspapers are passing from hints of it to open statements. The situation is favorable, with Germany friendly and Russia absorbed in other matters leaving only France to oppose the plan.

THE FINISH.

With an abiding confidence in the great mass of honest white people of the Tarheel state, as the sun goes down behind the western hills today we believe North Carolina has been redeemed, and when the ballots are counted that we shall be able to rejoice at the repudiation of Russellism, which term is used simply as a synonym for rottenness, corruption, rascality and all that is vicious and vile.

For two years the good people of this state have been groping in the darkness of fusion rule, and with the fortitude, patience and forbearance of heroes they have quietly submitted to the evils which have been placed upon them.

We believe today has been a day of retribution, and that the result will leave no doubt about the fact that white men are white men, and that they will rule this State. While waiting for the ballots to be counted we close by saying we have tried to do our duty in this campaign.

The Telegram has refrained from saying many things about the individual candidates on the fusion ticket in this county, which might with all propriety have been said, but which would have caused hard feelings, personally.

This course was not actuated by fear of any man or men or party, but by the fact that we all belong to the great Anglo-Saxon race. And we felt a degree of pity for the fusion candidates because they had such a poor way of showing their kinship.

In this great race fight we have felt it our duty to do all in our power to bring it to a successful termination. We have done this, and now as we write, the people are settling the question, we hope, for all time. With good feeling for all and malice toward none, we close. May the result settle forever the question of race supremacy, and settle it in thunder tones to those who are, by their actions, disputing the right of the white people to rule this country.

THE NEGRO IS DEAD.

Eloped With a White Woman and Paid The Penalty.

In his speech last night Hon. A. L. Brooks told a touching story as a living example of "social equality." He went to Chapel Hill yesterday to speak. When he arrived there he was informed that three miles from the town the lifeless body of Manly McCauley was hanging from a limb. McCauley was the negro who about a week ago eloped with the pretty wife of a white farmer living in the country near Chapel Hill.

That a white woman could stoop so low as to elope with a negro seems impossible. But the woman was born of a family who winked at social equality, and thought that the day when the white man and the negro would be socially equal was not far distant. She married a man who entertained the same views, and they lived happily together. But one day the man came home to find that his wife had eloped with his negro farm hand.

The woman is now at the home of her parents, in Orange County, and the negro returned to his community to be lynched by a mob of indignant white men.

MR. ALBRIGHT'S ANSWER

To The Recent Questions of The Telegram.

Mr. Editor—The Telegram says "now what we want cleared up is this: What was it that bothered the minds of the Methodists before, and up to the time the partnership idea was discovered? Certainly nobody dreamed that Trinity was a stockholder in the American Tobacco Company where the trial was on. * * * "But, suppose, Bro. Albright, after all that Trinity College does not own stock in the American Tobacco Company, what then will all this hue and cry be charged to? And who knows that Trinity does not own such stock?" * * * "It might save some of the brethren from an awkward position if they would take the time and trouble to inform themselves fully as to the exact and present status of the Trinity partnership in the American Tobacco Company."

Bro. Southgate told us what was the exact status of "the Trinity partnership in the American Tobacco Company," and it would certainly be gratifying to all the Methodists to know what is the "present status;" but reasoning from the above quoted extracts from the Telegram and our knowledge of Bro. Duke's good sense of propriety and the true Christian spirit which prompted his gift, we would not be surprised to hear that Trinity "does not own stock in the American Tobacco Company" today.

This would, indeed, place the matter of contention where it was at the beginning of the Clark-Kilgo controversy—simply a difference of opinion (veracily) between these two gentlemen, which, long before the trustees investigated it, had very little in it in which the church at large was interested.

The chief error of Dr. Kilgo and his many warm friends lay in the fact that everything that was said against him individually, in discussion of his lecture or sermon on "Christian Education," was seized upon as a fight against Trinity, while Judge Clark's friends argued as if Dr. Kilgo was fighting the State University. While the truth is, in my humble opinion, they were simply fighting against each other.

No, Bro. Phillips, if the trust co-partnership was out of the way, North Carolina Methodism would be as strongly united as ever, and Trinity, which had a history to be proud of, before either Judge Clark or Dr. Kilgo were public men, will live in the heart of the people, grow and prosper as never before—and for ages to come will continue its usefulness—long after both these distinguished gentlemen have been gathered to their rest, and comparatively forgotten.

Jas. W. Albright.

Asheville, N. C.
[The chief error of Mr. Albright is that, as he admitted in his former letter, he "read very little of the Clark-Kilgo controversy." His answer as to what troubled the minds of Methodists before the partnership idea was sprung shows conclusively that he is minus a great deal of information which he would have been in possession of had he read and kept posted, and he would have been prepared to give a more comprehensive answer to that question. Many people have made up their verdict in this matter more from their opinion of men than from a thorough knowledge of the matter at issue.—Ed. Telegram.]

Epworth League Reading Room.

The regular devotional meeting of the West Market street Epworth League was held in their rooms at the church last night. The feature of the evening was the opening of the Epworth League Reading Rooms. For several weeks the committee has worked faithfully and last night a long table covered with the choicest of reading matter, was presented to the league as a result of their efforts. The movement is rather young as yet, but it is the purpose of the league to soon throw open the doors of the reading room to the general public. The reading room will be open every night in the week from 7 to 10 and for an hour or two in the afternoon.

A Sure Sign of Croup.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by C. E. FUTURE OF THE SUNKEN SHIPS.

Only Hope of Saving Them is Through Private Concerns.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Captain Chester's decision yesterday to abandon the work of wrecking the Colon marks the end of that undertaking on the part of the government. It is said at the navy department that the captain was directed to stop the work when in his discretion it was no longer profitable.

Because the contract with the wrecking company has been terminated it does not follow that all idea has been abandoned of saving some of the sunken Spanish warships. The navy department is ready to engage with thoroughly responsible wrecking concerns, providing the latter absolve the government from payments unless the ships are delivered in a United States navy-yard. Already one of the greatest wrecking concerns in the world, a Swedish organization, has opened negotiations on the subject. It is willing to undertake at once the raising of the Reina Mercedes, which lies in the channel in Santiago harbor, and it has indicated a disposition to undertake the wrecking of the Colon. This concern has large experience in this class of work, and if no American concern able to do the work offers better terms, arrangements probably will be made with it on the basis of a cash payment for the ship delivered in the United States.

Tickets for the Chrysanthemum Show will be on sale at Hagan's Auditorium, where the exhibit will be held next Thursday and Friday.

Single admission to see the most beautiful display of chrysanthemums, roses and other flowers, is only ten cents. Season tickets may be bought for 25 cents, and tickets for children under twelve, 5 cents.

Dinners, luncheons and suppers will be served both days and nights, and if you just knew how the ladies have been providing turkeys, chicken salad, oysters, ice cream, cakes, and many other good things—all for the most reasonable prices—you would be planning to take all your meals with them during those two days.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

WADDLED BACK TO HOME.

A Duck Walks 120 Miles Over Rough and Hilly Country.

The London Spectator tells of a wonderful duck that after being taken from the haunts of his youth to a new habitation waddled back to its old home, a distance of 120 miles. This duck was of the Paradise variety. It lived at a sheep station 21 miles from Timaru, Canterbury, where its owner, a housekeeper, had clipped its wings so that it should not fly.

When the housekeeper changed to a new place she took the duck with her in a basket by train to Timaru, by another train for ninety-five miles, and in a coach ten miles to her new home. Soon the duck, which had been liberated from its basket, was missed and mourned for as lost.

Some time after the housekeeper visited her old home, and was astonished to see the duck swimming on its familiar pond.

Hobson's Raft and 23 Spanish Guns.

Norfolk, Nov. 7.—The Vulcan and Leonidas, convoys of the ill-fated Maria Teresa, arrived here to-day, and the former is anchored in Hampton Roads, while the latter is in the Norfolk navy yard. Officers from both vessels give substantially the same story of the foundering as that given out by Lieutenant Commander Harris, who was in command of the Teresa, and the last man to leave her before she was abandoned in the terrific gale off San Salvador. These officers spoke in the highest terms of the brave and gallant work of the seamen during the storm and say that officers and men acted nobly.

In the hold of the Leonidas are 23 of the guns of the destroyed Spanish fleet, ranging in size from five to eleven inches. Some of these are still loaded, as the charges could not be extracted. The raft upon which Lieutenant Hobson left the Merrimac, after he had blown up the boat in the mouth of Santiago harbor, is also in the hold, though somewhat disfigured from a shell. Officers and men are in excellent condition.

Captured Two, Killed One.
Worcester, Mass., Nov. 7.—Early today a posse of citizens of North Grafton, surrounded a gang of burglars, who had broken into the post-office, and captured two and killed one of the robbers. George Allen, who lives near by, discovered the burglars and leaving his house through a rear window, alarmed Amos G. Getchell and William Getchell, who are both constables, and several other men. They surrounded the postoffice and found three men on the outside of the building. Both the burglars and citizens opened fire with revolvers. Subsequently the dead body of one of the robbers, apparently a Frenchman, was found in a field near by. Entering the building two other burglars were found and captured. They were armed.

November Cosmopolitan.
That the spy sent by the United States government to Spain during the war should have become the guest of Weyler himself, seems incredible. Yet there is nothing more true. The government selected as its agent a man of position who has lived much in Germany. It was necessary for us to have a trained intellect that would make no mistakes. His story is told in the November Cosmopolitan, and the most exciting pages of Dumas's fiction seem tame in comparison with the facts.

Crossing the frontier in a first-class carriage, he was by a trifling accident brought into conversation with a young Spanish nobleman; presently who should come along but the son of General Weyler. This acquaintance led to his receiving many attentions from Weyler when they reached Madrid, and the General actually gave up a day to a trip to the Escorial. Imagine this grim arch-enemy of ours laying himself out to please the secret agent whom the government had sent to find out the weak places of Spain. How trifling the demarcation between the position of honored guest and that of spy who, if discovered, would have been all the more quickly sent to his death! The same issue of The Cosmopolitan contains four pieces of fiction by such famous authors as Frank Stockton, Zangwill, H. G. Wells, and the lamented Harold Frederic, but none of it half so exciting in its interest as this true story.

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good result they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

No Cure—No Pay.
That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Tonight while waiting for election returns, go and see the great democratic educated horse, at the Academy of Music.
Winfield Young, and his sister, Miss Lilla, passed through at noon today, enroute to Fayetteville, to attend the Cumberland County Fair.
Mayor Taylor says Beautiful Jim Key is the most wonderful horse he ever saw, don't fail to see him tonight, a good place to wait for election returns.
Johnson and Dorsett call the attention of the ladies to their fall line of Zeigler Bros' fine shoes. They want you to call and see, whether you buy or not.
The celebrated dog "Handsome Dan," was a member of the gallant 71st regiment, and was in the thick of the fight at Santiago. He is owned by the Loenzo Bros., and will be seen here during their engagement this week.
The North Carolina Rolling Exposition will leave Greensboro tonight, remaining open until 11 o'clock. The car has been reloaded since its last stay here, and an entirely new display. Whether you saw the car before or not you should see it this time, as it is probably your last chance.

ONE LITTLE FIGHT.

Is the Amount of Disorder up to Two O'clock.

Everything up to the present time has been unusually quiet in Greensboro, things looking more like Sunday than election day. Not a store on South Elm street is open, merchants, bankers and others have been standing at the polls all day working for democracy, and have done much good.
One little one-sided fight occurred in front of John B. Wright's store. A big negro stepped on a white man's toe, and when the gentleman told him of it, declared in a disrespectful tone that "Dis is a free street an' it don't make a d-n bit o' diffence." No sooner was the last word uttered than the negro was flat on the sidewalk with an exceedingly flat and disfigured nose. The white man then told him if he moved he would kill him. The negro stared a little, jumped to his feet and ran like a frightened rabbit.

The Voting Today.

The voting in the city precincts has been comparatively heavy. Especially is this true up to noon when there was a lull and voting was light until 2:30 when the votes began coming out again. Every precinct in the city will give a good democratic majority. The republicans show a woeful lack of systematic work the negroes being employed at every precinct but one, to deal out tickets. Unless the republicans are at work in the country, better than they are in town in old Guilford will give the biggest democratic majority she has ever had. Of 2,183 registered voters, 1,696 have been cast up to 3 o'clock.

The Street Parade of The Show.

The street parade this morning by the Pipe and Blake Dog, Pony and Monkey show was lengthy and novel. The show has a large number of Shetland ponies and dogs and monkeys and they make a funny aggregation. A band drawn by four horses made excellent music. This show exhibited in Raleigh Saturday and the Morning Post says it was one of the best of the kind ever seen there, having many new features. However, this is a bad day for the show as the election is far more interesting.

could abuse a bath tub most shamefully in fifteen minutes. But there is another kind of abuse of the bath tub in which the bather instead of the tub is abused. There is a right and a wrong way to bathe. Ice cold baths are not best. Take one that is warm or tepid. Then by means of a shower reduce the temperature until it is cool, but not cold. If you have no shower bath the same results can be secured by the use of our Shower Bath Ring. The best bath tub appliance on the market, and only $2.00. Doesn't wet your hair.
